

Commitment to Animal Welfare

Grupo Nutresa S. A.

For Grupo Nutresa, sustainable development is a wraparound goal that governs its corporate performance philosophy. The sustainability strategy comprises six strategic priorities, one of which is focused on responsibly managing the value chain with the purpose of achieving a responsible sourcing.

To ensure this sourcing model and being aware of the possible impact of the multiple stages of the value chain, the Organization watches over animal well-being in all its processes, as well as in those of its allies and suppliers. Furthermore, Grupo Nutresa strives to find adequate environments for the animals throughout their development process, making sure to achieve productivity always based on sustainability criteria.

Therefore, the Organization is committed to animal well-being by means of the following endeavors:

- Assuring that, by 2027, 100% of its own production of pregnant sows will be cage-free and will have an appropriate environment for their normal behavior with enough room and adequate facilities.
- Ensuring the adequate nutrition, health and wellness conditions of the sows used in the processes, and preventing any negative impact that could occur during their breeding, feeding, vaccination, transport and slaughter stages.
- For the sourcing of raw materials from all species (beef, pork, poultry, turkey), Grupo Nutresa does not accept the use of cloning or genetic manipulation practices.
- In the case of international meat suppliers, we prioritize those who already have statements on animal welfare.
- Conducting an analysis of the regional egg supply capacity in order to identify suppliers with sustainable and competitive egg production processes that include proven adequate and discomfort-free environments, allowing the normal behavior of the laying hens, as well as the corresponding economic feasibility. After said analysis, the future commitments regarding egg sourcing practices will be established.
